PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Self-taught full-stack developer with 5+ years building custom software, automations, and AI tools that make businesses radically more efficient. Founder of Design over Atlanta, where I find a company's biggest workflow bottleneck and build the right tool for it — from websites and booking systems to full internal platforms — replacing hours of manual work and, in several cases, entire staff roles. I design, code, ship, and support everything end-to-end.

EXPERIENCE

Founder & Full-Stack Developer — Design over Atlanta

2020 – Present · Atlanta, GA / Remote

- Partner with 150+ small businesses to spot their biggest workflow bottleneck and build the right solution — a website, app, automation, or AI tool — to scale their efficiency with current technology.
- Built an automated bid-sourcing platform for an architectural firm that scans 50+ government bid & proposal sites daily, replacing a full-time sourcing role; it flags overdue items, applies custom disqualifying filters, and manages each proposal through its lifecycle.
- Ship booking systems, client portals, and AI phone receptionists that handle call routing and calendars — cutting the hours businesses lose to phone tag and manual data entry.
- Hand-code production sites in React/Next.js and deliver most work in days, using a demo-first process that lets clients approve before paying — maintaining a 100% client-retention rate.

Carpenter → Custom Software Developer — Summ Design

Nov 2022 – Present · Canton, GA

- Started as a carpenter, then proposed and built a custom app to replace the complicated off-the-shelf software the team was fighting to fit their workflow.
- Designed a tailored project-management platform tracking inventory, hardware, installation dates, per-job budgets, and timelines — built to their exact process instead of theirs bending to the tool.
- Integrated built-in team communication — walkie-talkie-style voice, video, and screen-sharing calls — so crews coordinate jobs without leaving the app.
